

Federal Flood Risk Management Resources

Resources Information

Agency: U.S. Geological Survey

Resource: (USGS) USGS Rapidly Deployable Networks

Overview: In addition to long-term stream gages, the USGS hosts a cache of various sensors that can be deployed during a high-water event. These include temporary gages (transmitting), water level sensors (non-transmitting), wave sensors, meteorological stations, and others.

Resource Website(s): Rapid Deployment Gages
USGS Flood Event Viewer: Providing Hurricane and Flood Response Data

Keywords: Local Government, State Government, Tribal, Preparing for Flood Response, Technical Assistance, Data & Tools